

The mission of Cornucopia Inc. is to help people with disabilities develop their skills, confidence, and workplace potential.

It all started in 1975 with a vision of a store where people with disabilities could learn real work skills in a real work setting. Founded by Anne and Brian Daw, a little storefront named "The Bin" was opened as a fresh fruit and vegetable market. The idea was to establish a program to help people with disabilities prepare for employment at a competitive level. A fresh, unique social entrepreneurship began. Today Nature's Bin is known as the best natural and organic foodstore on the west side of Cleveland. What's more, its proceeds help fund a strong and flourishing vocational training program.

Cornucopia, through its work adjustment and job placement programs, helps people with disabilities become more financially independent and enjoy a higher quality of life. We offer vocational training at our own Nature's Bin market and within host organizations such as The Eliza Jennings Senior Care Network in Cleveland and The Jennings Center for Older Adults in Garfield Heights. Cornucopia also provides job placement and job coaching services for people with disabilities. Your donation will directly impact the lives of people with disabilities - helping them to become independent. Your support in 2010 will truly make a difference in the lives of those we serve!
